Personal Biography:

Joe is a lifelong native of northern Ohio. He has various interests and hobbies outside of the world of music and is largely successful at everything he undertakes. Joe was previously a Professional Skateboarder and was inducted into The Ohio All Sports Hall Of Fame in 2005. He skated under such sponsors as Vans, G&S Trucks See Joe in the G&S Trucks video on YouTube here: http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=FkzkCRZMbU

All of the business ventures above are home grown projects within and around his hometown. Joe is one of the most highly respected and most well recognized figures in the Ohio music scene. He is not just a force to be reckoned with but a friend and a teacher to all, plus is both wise and modest enough to merely call himself a student of music who is forever eager to learn.

“We are all here to learn. Hopefully some of what I have experienced can be used to make the path a little easier but if you are not willing to learn and adapt than there is no place for you to grow in this industry”
